

EFS

Confirmation No.: 1032

Request for Reconsideration filed May 18, 2011

filed in response to Office Action dated November 18, 2011

Dkt. No. 34294/3

Listing of Claims:

1. (previously presented) A method of advertising within a radio media broadcast program which features regular program content and content related to commercials, comprising:

A. establishing a contest whereby listeners of said program may become participants in said contest by following procedures of said contest, said contest including the broadcast of clues, using radio broadcasting media, from time to time at least partially during the broadcast of the audio content of one of said commercials, with the contest requirement that a participant respond to said at least one broadcasted clue and follow the required procedure of said contest,

B. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one set of regular program content during said program,

C. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one commercial during the audio content of said program as part of the audio content related to commercials,

D. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one clue at least partially during the audio content of said at least one commercial as part of the audio content related to the commercial's audio content, and

E. providing a specified award to each participant whose response to said clue satisfied the contest requirements to win said award.

2. (canceled)

3. (canceled)

4. (original) A method according to claim 1 wherein said at least one clue is incorporated into a commercial.

EFS

Confirmation No.: 1032

Request for Reconsideration filed May 18, 2011

filed in response to Office Action dated November 18, 2011

Dkt. No. 34294/3

5. (canceled)

6. (previously presented) A method according to claim 1 comprising the step of broadcasting at least two separate sets of songs, and broadcasting at least one commercial following each of said sets of songs, and broadcasting at least one clue at least partially during at least one of said commercials.

7. (canceled)

8. (previously presented) A method of advertising within a radio media broadcast program which features regular program content and content related to commercials, comprising:

A. establishing a contest whereby listeners of said program may become participants in said contest by following procedures of said contest, said contest including the broadcast of clues, using radio broadcast media, from time to time at least partially during broadcast of one of said commercials, with the contest requirement that a participant respond to said at least one broadcasted clue and follow the required procedure of said contest,

B. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one set of regular program content during said program,

C. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one set of commercials during said program as part of the content related to commercials,

D. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one clue at least partially during the audio content of said at least one set of commercials as part of the audio content related to the commercial's audio content, and

E. providing a specified award to each participant whose response to said clue satisfied the contest requirements to win said award.

EFS

Confirmation No.: 1032

Request for Reconsideration filed May 18, 2011

filed in response to Office Action dated November 18, 2011

Dkt. No. 34294/3

9. (previously presented) A method according to claim 8 wherein the at least one set of regular program content comprises at least two songs, and each of said sets of commercials comprises at least two commercials.

10. (previously presented) A method according to claim 9 wherein a typical one of said sets of regular program content is broadcast for about ten minutes, and a typical one of said sets of commercials is broadcast for about two minutes.

11. (original) A method according to claim 1 wherein said award comprises a specific prize.

12. (original) A method according to claim 1 wherein said award comprises the right to participate in a further phase of said contest.

13. (original) A method according to claim 1 wherein said response required of a contest participant comprises placing a call to a specified phone number.

14. (original) A method according to claim 1 wherein said response to win the contest comprises being the nth caller of a plurality of callers, where n is a number specified in the contest procedure.

15. (previously presented) Conducting a contest within a radio media broadcast program which features regular program content and content related to commercials, comprising:

A. establishing said contest whereby listeners of said program may become participants in said contest by following procedures of said contest, said contest including the broadcast of clues, using radio broadcast media, from time to time at least partially during broadcast of one of said commercials, with the contest requirement that

EFS

Confirmation No.: 1032

Request for Reconsideration filed May 18, 2011

filed in response to Office Action dated November 18, 2011

Dkt. No. 34294/3

a participant respond to said at least one broadcasted clue and follow the required procedure of said contest,

B. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one set of regular program content during said program,

C. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one set of commercials during said program as part of the content related to commercials,

D. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one clue at least partially during the audio content of a commercial of said at least one set of commercials as part of the audio content related to the commercial's audio content, and

E. providing a specified award to each participant whose response to said clue satisfied the contest requirements to win said award.

16. (previously presented) A method of advertising within a radio media broadcast which features the broadcast of regular program content for a first specified period of time and broadcasting content related to commercials during a second specified period of time, comprising:

A. establishing a contest whereby listeners or viewers of said program may become participants in said contest by following procedures of said contest, said contest including the broadcast of at least one clue, using radio broadcast media, from time to time at least partially during broadcast of at least one of said commercials, with the contest requirement that a participant respond to said at least one broadcasted clue and follow the required procedure of said contest,

B. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, said program during the first specified period of time,

C. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one set of commercials during said second specified period of time,

EFS

Confirmation No.: 1032

Request for Reconsideration filed May 18, 2011

filed in response to Office Action dated November 18, 2011

Dkt. No. 34294/3

D. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, said at least one clue at least partially during the audio content of a commercial as part of the audio content of said at least one set of commercials during said second specified period of time, and

E. providing a specified award to each participant whose response to said clue satisfied the contest requirements to win said award.

17. (previously presented) A method of advertising within a radio media broadcast program which features regular program content and content related to commercials, comprising:

A. establishing a contest whereby listeners of said program may become participants in said contest by following procedures of said contest, said contest including the broadcast, using radio broadcast media, of triggering events from time to time, with the contest requirement that a participant respond to said at least one broadcasted triggering event and follow the required procedure of said contest,

B. establishing as one rule of said contest that said triggering event will be the broadcast of audio content of a particular commercial as part of the audio content related to the commercial's audio content,

C. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, at least one set of regular program content during said program,

D. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, audio content of at least one of said particular commercials during said program as part of the audio content related to the commercial's audio content, and

E. providing a specified award to each participant whose response to said triggering event satisfied the contest requirements to win said award.

18. (previously presented) A method of advertising within a radio media broadcast which features the broadcast of regular program content for a first specified

EFS

Confirmation No.: 1032

Request for Reconsideration filed May 18, 2011

filed in response to Office Action dated November 18, 2011

Dkt. No. 34294/3

period of time and broadcasting content related to commercials during a second specified time period, comprising:

- A. establishing a contest whereby listeners or viewers of said program may become participants in said contest by following procedures of said contest, said contest including the broadcast of at least one triggering event, using radio broadcast media, from time to time, with the contest requirement that a participant respond to said at least one broadcasted triggering event and follow the required procedure of said contest,
- B. establishing as one rule of said contest that said triggering event will be the broadcast audio content of a particular commercial as part of the audio content related to the commercial's audio content during the second specified time period,
- C. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, said regular program content for the first specified period of time,
- D. broadcasting, using the radio broadcast media, said at least one of said particular commercials which is said triggering event during the second specified time period, and
- E. providing a specified award to each participant whose response to said triggering event satisfied the contest requirements to win said award.